Where do you want to go?

Hope, Indiana

"A Surprising Little Town"

Hope, Indiana, was founded in 1829 by Martin Hauser and a group of Moravians. The Moravians don't let us forget this, even though the Methodist Circuit Riders weren't far behind! The town is fiercely independent, surprisingly influential, and very caring - an interesting place to visit and a great place to live. The people of the Hope United Methodist Church are quite active and visible in community life, and they make us proud. There are numerous places in the community where we can be found, and here are just a few places to look.

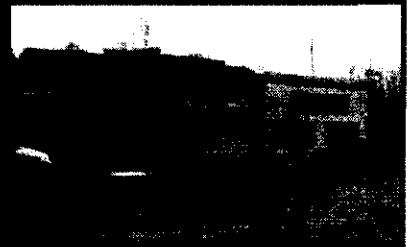

The Hope Bike Ride, started by Paul Ashbrook, involves virtually every segment of the community, and is a good demonstration of how people in Hope are able and willing to work together. If you are a bicyclist, you will want to check out this link, and this event.

The Hope Ministerial Association meets every Tuesday 8 a.m. at the First Baptist Church. The first Tuesday of every month they meet at the Filling Station Restaurant. All people involved in ministry leadership are welcome to attend.

The Hope Star Journal is the only local newspaper, and an essential source of information for the Hope area. To subscribe, call (812) 546-4940. The Star Journal is also an important sponsor of our radio program Faith to Faith.

The Filling Station Restaurant is another sponsor of our radio program, Faith to Faith. They offer the community good food, and a full-line catering service for weddings, meetings, etc. They are also nice people. Call at (812) 546-4135.

New Reflections Hair Salon:
"Hair On the Square"
 615 Harrison St.

Vicki is not only a valued member of the congregation, but a very good hair stylist. To make an appointment call (812) 546-6002

Whitt's Pizza

Whitt's has been around for years serving the community their Pizza and sandwiches. To order, call (812) 546-6171

Norman Funeral Home

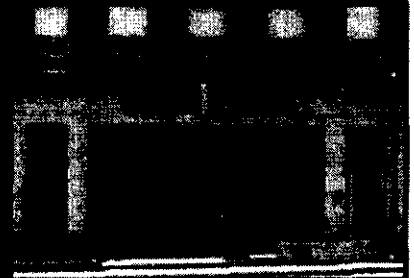

One of the few independent Funeral Homes left in the area. The Norman family has served the community for generations.
